CEO MESSAGE

Special “Lost Battalion” Film Screening for War Veterans

World War II veterans Robert Kishinami, Henry Ishida and Takeo Ikeda

It was a full house, as sons, daughters and other family members and friends came out in force with some of Hawai'i's World War II veterans of Japanese ancestry for a special screening of a documentary film, Rescuing the Lost Battalion: The Story Behind the Heroes. The film was made by the international arm of Japan's public broadcaster, NHK.

It's a painful war story that many people in Hawai'i know. Many local boys of Japanese ancestry suffered grievously to save Texas soldiers who were pinned down by German gunfire in steep, dense woods in France. The Japanese Americans had volunteered for their country's wartime infantry, patriotic to a government that distrusted them.

This epic battle is only now starting to become known throughout Japan. The film director, 30-something Yoichiro Sasagawa, and several NHK World-Japan executives came to Honolulu last month and gave local veterans an opportunity to view this English-language version of the film in person before it airs on PBS Hawai'i next month.

Nine World War II vets in their 90s, including former Gov. George Ariyoshi, attended, as did four widows of veterans. They were among more than 400 attendees. Widow Taeko Ishikawa still makes every effort to represent her husband George, who passed away in 1970.

One of the attending vets, Takeo "Ike" Ikeda, opened up about his experiences in the battle for the Lost Battalion for the first time in his life, in an emotional interview that's part of the film.

This hour-long documentary will air on PBS Hawai'i at 8:00 pm on Saturday, August 4.

Aloha nui,

Two more Summer of Adventure programs will premiere in August. Journey to the outer regions of the remote Australian wilderness on The Outback, and venture deep into Mexico's tropical rainforests in Wonders of Mexico.

Summer of Adventure offers no shortage of thrilling programming to satisfy curious minds that are hungry for travel.

University of Hawai‘i Professional Assembly (UHPA)

Kris Hanselman
Executive Director

The University of Hawaii Professional Assembly (UHPA) is a union that supports nearly 4,000 UH faculty across the 10 UH-system campuses statewide. The union says it seeks fair treatment for its members, so they can deliver quality instruction and research for Hawai‘i’s students and citizens.

UHPA is a longtime supporter of news and public affairs programs on PBS Hawai‘i. It currently sponsors Amanpour on

PBS, PBS NewsHour and Washington Week. The union says its support for these programs is important in a modern age that often prioritizes speed over substance, where instant news feeds and endorsed “news” content are commonplace.

“PBS Hawai‘i offers programs that go beyond the headlines and tweets,” said UHPA Executive Director Kris Hanselman. “These programs help viewers understand larger issues and discern forces that are shaping public policy and the future direction of our nation and state.”

Mahalo a nui loa to the University of Hawai‘i Professional Assembly for its support of PBS Hawai‘i. If you or someone you know would like to be a program sponsor, please contact PBS Hawai‘i’s Director of Business Support, Patty Doo, at pdoo@pbshawaii.org or call 808.462.5048.
