Islands of WONDER

Three-part series explores the wildlife of Hawai‘i, Borneo and Madagascar
With the support of Kamehameha Schools, we’re looking to tap into the power of aloha&grit for the Islands.

This month, the voices of four mana wāhine (women of strength) will be heard on local media outlets, sharing a glistening pearl of wisdom as Hawai‘i trudges through these long months of the pandemic.

The mana wāhine are: the late Hawaiian cultural icon Nona Beamer; community mediator and activist Puanani Burgess; Chancellor of the University of Hawai‘i at West O‘ahu, Maenette Ah Nee-Benham; and musical artist Ku‘uipo Kumukahi.

Their voices will be followed in the year ahead by those of many other intriguing speakers. You’ll hear brief but potent mana‘o (belief, idea, thought, knowledge) in a year-long multimedia community resilience program: What’s it Going to Take? aloha&grit.

As Islanders, we know that there’s nothing weak about aloha. It is a life force of strength, humility, love and the alignment of mind and heart.

As for grit, experts say it’s more than bouncing back after a blow or loss. Psychologist/author Angela Duckworth describes it this way: “Grit is passion and perseverance for very long term goals. Grit is sticking with your future, day in, day out, not just for the week, not just for the month but for years, and working really hard to make that future a reality.”

For aloha&grit, PBS Hawai‘i will be reaching into our vast video archive and also conducting new interviews, sharing others’ wisdom about finding one’s way through adversity. We hope you’ll be inspired on your journey.

Watch for aloha&grit moments airing between regular TV programming! Or join us on social media. Or check our website for the newest aloha&grit messages at pbshawaii.org/aloha&grit.

Here’s to living with aloha&grit.

The power of aloha & grit

Two national public broadcasting systems, PBS in the United States and the BBC in the United Kingdom, team up for an exploration of three isolated island environments. These remote places – Madagascar, Borneo and Hawai‘i – harbor wildlife found nowhere else on Earth.

In the premiere episode, visit Madagascar, Earth’s oldest island, which has been isolated longer than any other place in the world. Life here has had time to evolve in strange and unusual ways, resulting in more unique wildlife than possibly any other island on the planet.

Next up is Borneo, the third largest island on Earth, which may appear at first to be a lush paradise but its harsh landscape makes it a struggle for life to survive. These challenges are the secret to Borneo hosting a greater diversity of wildlife than almost any other island.

The last episode is an outsider’s look at the most remote island chain on Earth, our own Island home of Hawai‘i. The program looks at how the Islands are a sanctuary for the wildlife that has reached our tropical shores. Learn how these animals, including invasive species, have developed and adapted to survive in their surroundings.

MADAGASCAR Wednesday, September 16 at 8:00 pm
BORNEO Wednesday, September 23 at 8:00 pm
HAWAI‘I Wednesday, September 30 at 8:00 pm

Another Top National Industry Rating

GuideStar, an information service specializing in reporting on U.S. nonprofit organizations, has awarded PBS Hawai‘i its highest ranking in transparency – the Platinum Seal of Transparency. This public television station also has earned a perfect 100 percent rating in transparency and accountability from the national nonprofit evaluator Charity Navigator, which gives us an overall top four-star rating.

ATSUHIKO AND INA GOODWIN TATEUCHI FOUNDATION
“I’m a businessman who happens to be gay,” says Hula’s Bar and Lei Stand owner Jack Law.

Growing up in Detroit, Michigan, Law moved to O’ahu in 1966 to attend the University of Hawai‘i at Mānoa. But school was short-lived once Law says he discovered himself and opportunities to pursue his dream of working in the entertainment industry.

In 1974, Law and business partner Bob Magoon decided to open a nightclub on a piece of property in Waikīkī owned by the Magoon family. According to Law, “I said, ‘Bob, we don’t know anything about the bar business.’ He says, ‘Oh, how hard could it be?’” More than four decades later, Hula’s is still standing. Many may remember the original location on Kūhiō Avenue with its iconic banyan tree. The bar has since moved towards the Diamond Head end of Waikīkī.

Law is also an advocate for civil rights for the LGBTQ community. He was a founding member of the Life Foundation, a nonprofit organization that was one of Hawai‘i’s and the country’s first programs focusing on HIV/AIDS. He also created the Honolulu Rainbow Film Festival which celebrated its 31st anniversary this year by going virtual due to the COVID-19 pandemic.
PBS HAWAI’I PRESENTS
Shinnyo Lantern Floating Hawai’i 2020
Thursday, September 3 at 9:00 pm
On every Memorial Day since 1999, the international Buddhist community Shinnyo-en has officiated Shinnyo Lantern Floating Hawai’i, a ceremony to honor those who laid a foundation for our lives. At the close of the ceremony, thousands of lanterns are floated on the water, each carrying messages of gratitude, remembrance and love.

In 2020, due to the coronavirus pandemic, Shinnyo Lantern Floating Hawai’i could not take place in its traditional form of a peaceful gathering of 50,000 people on Ala Moana Beach in Honolulu.

During this time of pain and suffering, messages of gratitude, love, hope and courage are more important than ever. This program turns the spotlight on stories that convey these feelings, along with a personal message of hope, peace and healing from Her Holiness, Shinso Ito, Head of Shinnyo-en.

Harbor from the Holocaust
Tuesday, September 8 at 10:00 pm
During World War II, 20,000 Jewish refugees fled Nazi-occupied Europe to the city of Shanghai, China. This film tells the story of the relationship the refugees, known as “Shanghailanders,” had with their adopted city, and how these survivors carried on traditions that would have been consigned to oblivion.

HACKING YOUR MIND
Wednesdays at 10:00 pm, September 9, 16, 23 and 30
Explore how humans make decisions, and how that makes us easy to “hack.” Funded by a grant from the National Science Foundation, this four-part series takes you inside the world of hackers – from political campaigns and social media companies, to corporate marketers and governments – to reveal how they influence your behavior without your even being aware of it.

GREAT PERFORMANCES
Romeo and Juliet
Friday, September 11 at 8:00 pm
Experience Shakespeare’s classic as a ballet from choreographer Kenneth MacMillan, performed by dancers from The Royal Ballet. Set to a score by Russian composer Sergei Prokofiev, the ballet was filmed on atmospheric sets and locations throughout Budapest, Hungary. William Bracewell and Francesca Hayward star in the title roles.
GROWING BOLDER
Season 6
Sundays at 4:30 pm, beginning September 13
Hosted by journalist Marc Middleton, this series features inspirational stories from older adults who are breaking stereotypes and living with passion and purpose. Each episode introduces inspirational and optimistic segments about ordinary people who share a common goal of lifelong learning, an active lifestyle and healthy aging. Pictured: Middleton with Julia Hawkins, a competitor at the 2019 National Senior Games.

VAN DER VALK ON MASTERPIECE
Sundays at 8:00 pm, September 13, 20 and 27
Set in Amsterdam, this three-part series stars Marc Warren as Piet Van der Valk, a street-smart Dutch detective who navigates the lively and enigmatic city, solving mysterious crimes using astute human observation and inspired detection.

GREAT PERFORMANCES: NOW HEAR THIS Series 2
Fridays at 8:00 pm, September 18 – October 2
Violinist and conductor Scott Yoo returns with more journeys of musical discovery throughout Europe. Explore the works of composers Haydn, Schubert and Mozart with Yoo as he performs with acclaimed soloists and young musicians.

ART IN THE TWENTY-FIRST CENTURY
Season 10
Fridays at 9:00 pm, September 18 – October 2
Meet 12 artists and one artist collective behind some of the most significant artwork of the 21st century. These creators respond to the places they live and work, and show unabashed engagement with the world around them. Featuring artists living in London, Beijing and the U.S.-Mexico border area. Pictured: Artist Guan Xiao at work in her Beijing studio.

Orchestrating Change
Saturday, September 19 at 8:00 pm
This film presents the inspiring story of the Me 2 Orchestra, a classical music organization created by and for people with mental illness. One concert at a time, across New England, the orchestra is combating stigmas about mental illness, dispelling stereotypes and demonstrating what people with mental illness can accomplish working together.
LAST TANGO IN HALIFAX
Season 4
Sundays at 7:00 pm, September 20 – October 11
As they enter their seventh year of marriage, Alan (Derek Jacobi) and Celia (Anne Reid) settle into a lovely new home, but they aren’t seeing eye-to-eye. Clashing politics and Alan’s new job create tension in the household. Meanwhile, Caroline (Sarah Lancashire), gets emotionally embroiled at work, while Gillian (Nicola Walker) faces trouble at the farm.

POV
In My Blood It Runs
Monday, September 21 at 9:00 pm
Peek into the life of Dujuan, a 10-year-old Aboriginal boy in Alice Springs, Australia. Dujuan is a child-healer, a good hunter and speaks three languages. But he is failing in school and facing increasing scrutiny from welfare authorities and the police. Walk with him as he grapples with these pressures and shares his truths.

FRONTLINE
The Choice 2020: Trump vs. Biden
Tuesday, September 22 at 9:00 pm
FRONTLINE investigates the lives and characters of Donald Trump and Joe Biden as they compete to be President. Those who know them best reveal the key moments that have made and shaped both men and their approaches to leadership of America in a time of crisis.

YOSHIKI: LIVE AT CARNEGIE HALL
Saturday, September 26 at 8:00 pm
Japanese composer, classically-trained pianist, and leader of the rock group X Japan, Yoshiki Hayashi has sold more than 50 million records to both rock and classical music fans worldwide. This special presents selections from his sold-out 2017 New York City concerts featuring the Tokyo Philharmonic Orchestra.

MAKE48
Season 4
Wednesdays at 7:30 pm, beginning September 30
Immersing viewers in the invention process from idea to store shelf, this series follows 10 teams with a diverse range of ages, backgrounds and experience as they compete in a real-life invention contest. In 48 hours, each team must brainstorm a product idea, make a prototype and pitch it to a team of expert judges for a chance to win the funding to bring their product to the marketplace.
