PBS HAWAIʻI

PROGRAM GUIDE | OCTOBER 2022 | VOLUME 41 ISSUE 10

Paula Fuga can remember vividly the moment she understood what her destiny would be. As a 9-year-old child, houseless, living on Sand Island Beach, she was asked what she wanted to be when she grew up.

She recalls, "I was just taken by this vision. I could see myself on a stage in front of a huge crowd that I couldn't number. And I knew in that moment I would be a singer. I would travel the world playing music."

That crystal clear mental picture helped her navigate hardships and uncertainty. "I honestly believe that it was that singular vision, that moment in my life that saved me because I had a dream to look forward to. And not just a dream, but I had an actual gift that I was given."

Paula took a break from touring the world to share that remarkable gift on the Nā Mele stage. Accompanied by an all-star band including Mike Love and Brad Watanabe from The Green, Paula performs songs from her catalogue and her 2022 Nā Hōkū Hanohano award winning album for Contemporary Album of the Year, Rain on Sunday.

As Paula is living out her dreams, she aims to impact and uplift her fans whether they need "healing in their heart, or they just need an escape from reality, or a little extra dose of joy."

It's that affirming sense of joy she hopes to pass on to the audience. "When they see [me] performing on stage, I hope that they can see that I'm up here on stage doing what I love with people that I love."

Home is Here

Wednesday, October 26 at 7:30 pm

It's a sporting competition like no other, with roots that date back to the 1800s. In this month's episode of Home is Here, get ready for some roping, bull riding and barrel racing.

The Makawao Stampede Rodeo is a three-day event where cowboys and cowgirls get to show off their skills at the Oskie Rice Arena, which is owned by Kaonoulu Ranch. "This property has been in our family since 1916. The rodeo and the arena have been a part of Upcountry in Maui for I think going on probably about 75 years now," says Kaonoulu Ranch General Manager Ken Miranda.

Working on the ranch and rodeoing is a lifestyle for the Miranda family that continues to be passed down. "Chores on the farm at the ranch with your horses and then practicing for rodeo every day, it consumes a lot of your time. But you also learn how to be super respectful and know how to take care of yourself and the people around you really well," says Ken's son Daniel, who will be attending college next year on a rodeo scholarship.

From a multi-generational family business to one that's just starting to bloom, Saili Levi will be the first person to tell you that he never thought he would become a vanilla bean farmer. But a cancer diagnosis six years ago made him reexamine his life. "A switch went off in my head that I needed to do something different and leave something behind for my three girls and my wife," says Levi.

A venture into vanilla was not his first, second or even third business idea. According to his wife Abigail, the proposals were all over the map. However, she says, "What I loved seeing, and what really I feel like has played out, is that he kept thinking of ideas and thinking, 'how can I make this dream I have in my mind a reality?' Because the dream that he had, was being his own boss, and so he kept trying and eventually he found it."

"We don't know what happens in life, but we can still continue to move forward," says Levi. We share the Levi family story and how the Laie Vanilla Company came to fruition in Windward O'ahu.

Top to Bottom: *Rodeo contestant participates in barrel racing at Oskie Rice Arena. Makawao Stampede Rodeo contestant participates in team roping competition. Saili Levi, owner of Laie Vanilla Company, harvests vanilla beans with his daughters Mālie and Iinilani. The Levi Family at the Kaka'ako Farmers Market in Honolulu. OUR ELECTION POLICY: Insights on PBS Hawai‘i is a regularly scheduled news and public affairs program. During the election season, PBS Hawai‘i will continue to provide our trademark, loosely structured live format, featuring candidates discussing issues of community interest. PBS Hawai‘i exercises sole control over the format of the program. Depending on the number of candidates and newsworthy issues in a given race, there are practical limitations as to the number of candidates who participate. Decisions in presenting Insights on PBS Hawai‘i are based on good-faith journalistic judgment in providing a conversation that will best serve the public interest.

What School You Went?

What School You Went? is a weekly audio podcast that explores the traditions and stories that make up the modern-day culture of Hawai‘i. Listen on most major podcast distributors or at pbshawaii.org.

School Stories: Keʻelikōlani and Sustainability in Action

Thursday, October 20 at 8:30 pm

Keʻelikōlani follows the name change of Central Middle School in Downtown Honolulu to Princess Ruth Keʻelikōlani Middle School. It explores the royal history of the campus and its links to the Native Hawaiian princess it is now named after.

In Sustainability in Action, students at Waimea High School on Kauaʻi are taking their learning out of the classroom and onto the farm. But this isn't your typical farm – lessons go well beyond learning to grow plants.

Nona Beamer and Her Family: A Century of Songs Celebrating Hawaiian Culture
Thursday, October 6 at 8:30 pm
This special from 1996 features the late educator, composer, and hula dancer Nona Beamer performing songs with her sons Kapono and Keola.

On the Radio
Thursday, October 13 at 8:30 pm
Learn about Hawaiian music from when the Islands were still a territory and hear tales from some of Hawaiʻi's famous radio personalities.

No Nā Mamo: For the Descendants
Thursday, October 27 at 8:30 pm
This 1990 film documents late hula master Kauʻi Zuttermeister and four generations of her family and their year-long preparation to open the Merrie Monarch Festival in Hilo.

RICK STEVES ART OF EUROPE

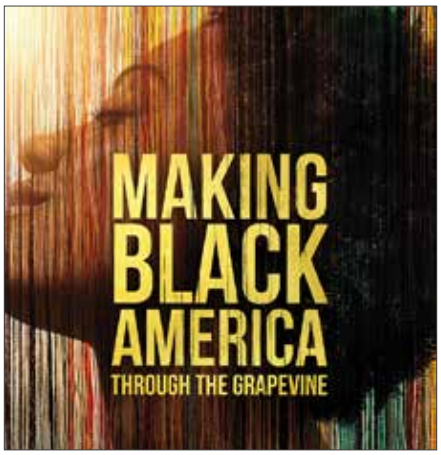
Saturdays at 8:00 pm
October 1-November 5

Join Rick Steves for a sweep through European art history as he weaves the great masterpieces into a fascinating story. From cave art and prehistoric tombs, Michelangelo's magnificent dome at the Vatican, glittering French palaces, and the masterworks of Picasso and Van Gogh, Rick does for art what he does for travel — makes it fun and accessible.

The House That Norm Built

Monday, October 3 at 9:00 pm

Celebrate in style with This Old House Master Carpenter Norm Abram before he hangs up his tool belt one last time. This tribute special highlights 43 years of Norm's incredible career as a pioneer of the home improvement television genre.



MAKING BLACK AMERICA: THROUGH THE GRAPEVINE

Tuesdays at 9:00 pm,
October 4-25

Hosted by Dr. Henry Louis Gates Jr., this series introduces viewers to a world that showcases Black people's ability to collectively prosper, defy white supremacy and define Blackness in ways that transformed America itself.

MISS SCARLET AND THE DUKE ON MASTERPIECE, Season 2

Sundays at 7:00 pm
October 16 - November 20

Victorian London's most delicious detective duo are back. Aspiring detective Eliza Scarlet partners with her longtime friend/rival, The Duke, as their relationship delightfully and maddeningly simmers on.

MAGPIE MURDERS ON MASTERPIECE

Sundays at 8:00 pm
October 16 - November 20

This beguiling mystery series revolves around Susan Ryeland, an editor who is given an unfinished manuscript of an author's novel, but has little idea how it will change her life.

ANNIKA

Sundays at 9:00 pm
October 16 - November 20

Nicola Walker stars as Annika Strandhed, the dry-witted, speedboat-driving head of Glasgow's newly-formed Marine Homicide Unit, who juggles baffling cases and a rebellious teenage daughter.

Rising Against Asian Hate: One Day in March

Monday, October 17 at 9:00 pm

Following the aftermath of the March 2021 mass shootings at three spas in Atlanta, this film chronicles how the Asian American community came together to fight back against hate. It details the struggles and triumphs, progress and setbacks, discrimination and achievements of AANHPI communities.

NATURE
Running with the Beest

Wednesday, October 19
at 8:00 pm

Witness the great wildebeest migration in East Africa, the most impressive mass movement of land animals on Earth. Travel with two Maasai guides who expose today's conflict between people and wildlife and share new ideas for co-existence.

INDEPENDENT LENS
TikTok, Boom.
Monday, October 24 at 9:00 pm

Dissect the impact of the history-making platform TikTok along myriad cross-sections, including algorithmic, socio-political, economic and cultural. Balancing a genuine interest in the community and its innovative mechanics with a healthy skepticism, the film delves into the security issues, global political challenges and the Gen Z influencers who know it best.

ROSIE'S RULES
New PBS Kids Show Premieres October 3

Rosie Fuentes is a 5-year-old girl just beginning to learn about the fascinating, baffling, thrilling world beyond her family walls. The series aims to teach children lessons about how a community works, helping them develop their awareness of themselves as individuals and as part of a broader society.

THE PBS HAWAIʻI KEIKI CLUB: CREATED FOR FAMILIES JUST LIKE YOURS!

We all know that children don't just "watch" tv, they really get involved. They talk to the characters on the screen, they repeat things they hear and they act out what they see.

Programs like Curious George, Daniel Tiger's Neighborhood, Sesame Street and Nature Cat offer a safe place for all children to learn and grow, giving them a head-start on their journey to life-long learning.

If your child or grandchild watches PBS Hawaiʻi, you already give us two very valuable things – your child's time and your trust.

Please lend a helping hand by joining the PBS Hawaiʻi Keiki Club with a gift of $30 ($25 for each additional sibling) today. It's a great way to support your favorite PBS Kids programs, and you'll receive fun benefits and opportunities to meet your friends on PBS KIDS throughout the year.

PBS Hawaiʻi Keiki Club members receive:

- Welcome pack
- Birthday gift
- On-air birthday message
- Quarterly newsletter
- Invitations to exclusive events

Make your pledge online at PBSHawaii.org or scan the QR code.

PBS Hawai'i Classics

Most Wednesdays, 7:30 pm

Earlier this year and in 2021, PBS Hawai'i dipped into its vast archives of programming to find and share gems from the past, including episodes of Spectrum Hawaii and Pau Hana Years. Starting in November, these classic programs will get their own regular time slot under the moniker PBS Hawai'i Classics. Watch stories about Hawai'i that you have not seen in decades, or perhaps not seen at all, to learn something you don't know, or relearn something you may have forgotten.
